THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, AUGUST 7, to Saturday, AUGUST 14, 1736.

LONDON, April 27.

HEr Highneſs the Princeſs of Saxe-Gotha came in his Majeſty's Coach from Greenwich to Lambeth, croſs'd the Water at Lambeth, and was brought from Whitehall to St James's in the Queen's Chair, where was a numerous and ſplendid Court beyond Expreſſion His Highneſs the Prince of Wales received the Princeſs at the Garden Door, and upon her ſinking on her Knee to kiſs his Hand, he affectionately rais'd her up, and twice ſaluted her. His Royal Highneſs led her up the Stairs to their Majeſty's Appartments, where preſenting her to the King, her Highneſs fell on her Knee to kiſs his Hand, but was gently taken up and ſaluted by him. Her Highneſs was then preſented to the Queen in like manner, and afterwards to the Duke and Princeſſes, who congratulated her Arrival. Her Highneſs retiring to the Prince's Apartment, dined there with his Royal Highneſs, the Duke, and all the Princeſſes, the Windows being thrown open, the better to oblige the Curioſity of the Spectators. At Eight the Proceſſion began to the Chappel, and the joining of Hands was proclaim'd to the People by the firing of Guns Her Highneſs was in her Hair, wearing a Crown with one Bar as Princeſs of Wales, ſet all over with Diamonds: Her Robe likewiſe, as Princeſs of Wales, being of Crimſon Velvet turned back with ſeveral Rows of Ermin, and having her Train ſupported by Lady Caroline Lenos, Daughter to the Duke of Richmond; Lady Caroline Fitzroy, Daughter to the D. of Grafton; Lady Caroline Cavendiſh, Daughter to the D of Devonſhire; and Lady Sophia Farmer, Daughter to the Earl of Pomfret; all of whom were in Virgin Habits of Silver like the Princeſs, and adorn'd with Diamonds not leſs in Value than from 20 to 30,000 l each. Her Highneſs was led by his Royal Highneſs the Duke, and conducted by his Grace the Duke of Graſton, Lord Chamberlain of the Houſhold; and the Lord Hervey, Vice-Chamberlain; and attended by the Counteſs of Effingham, and the other Ladies of her Houſhold. The Marriage-Service was read by the Lord Biſhop of London, Dean of the Chappel, and after the ſame was over, a fine Anthem was perform'd by a great Number of Voices and Inſtruments. When the Proceſſion return'd his Royal Highneſs led his Bride, and coming into the Drawing-Room, their Royal Highneſſes kneel'd down, and receiv'd their Majeſties Bleſſing. At half an Hour after Ten, their Majeſties ſat down to a Supper in Ambigu, the Prince and Duke being on the King's right Hand, and the Princeſs of Wales and the four Princeſſes on the Queen's left. The firſt Courſe conſiſted of 15 Diſhes cold and 15 hot, the ſecond of 30 Diſhes hot; and then came the Deſert, which form'd a fine Garden, riſing to a Terras, the Aſcent to which was adorn'd with the Reſemblance of Fountains, Grottos, Groves, Flowers, &c In the Middle was the Temple of Hymen, the Dome of which was ſupported on tranſparent Columns three Foot high. As the Meats were the moſt exquiſite and rare that could be procur'd, ſo the Deſert contain'd a Profuſion of the fineſt Fruits, amongſt which were Cherries in great Perfection, Apricots, Pine-Apples, &c. At the end of the firſt Courſe, their Majeſties drank to the Bride and Bridegroom; and ſoon after the Prince and Princeſs riſing up, drank the Healths of their Majeſties, during which the Duke and Princeſſes ſtood likewiſe. When the Royal Family roſe from Table, the Sweetmeats were diſtributed among the Quality Their Majeſties retiring to the Apartments of his Royal Highneſs the Pr. of Wales, the Bride was conducted to her Bed Chamber, and the Bridegroom to his Dreſſing Room, where the Duke undreſs'd him, and his Majeſty did his Royal Highneſs the Honour to put on his Shirt Then the Bride was undreſs'd by the Princeſſes; and being in Bed in a rich Undreſs, his Majeſty came into the Room, and the Pr[illegible] following ſoon after in a Night-Gown of Silver [illegible] and Cap of the fineſt Lace, the Quality were admi[illegible] ſee the Bride and Bridegroom ſitting up in the Be[illegible] rounded by all the Royal Family. His Maj[illegible] dreſs'd in a Gold Brocade turn'd up with [illegible] broider'd with large Flowers in Silver and Colou[illegible] the Waiſtcoat; the Buttons and Star were [illegible]ſe, where Her Majeſty was in a plain yellow Silk, robed [illegible]oods, alſo with Pearl Diamonds, and other Jewels of immen[illegible]. The Dukes of Grafton, Newcaſtle and St. Albans, [illegible]ſe that are of Albemarle, Lord Hervey, Col. Pelham, [illegible]bts by the other Noblemen, were in Gold Brocades of 3 to [illegible]erſon that Suit. The Duke of Marlborough was in a White [illegible] and Gold Brocade, upon which was an exceedi[illegible] Point d'Eſpagne; the Earl of Euſton and many [illegible] were in Clothes flower'd or ſprigg'd with Gold; the [illegible] of Montague in a Gold brocaded Tiſſue. The Waiſtcoats were univerſally Brocades, with large Flowers 'Tware obſerv'd moſt of the rich Clothes were the Manufactured of England; and in Honour of our own Artiſts, the few which were French did not come up to theſe in Richneſs, Goodneſs or Fancy, as was ſeen by the Clothes worn by the Royal Family, which were all of the Britiſh Manufacture. The Cuffs of the Sleeves were univerſally ſleep and open, the Waiſts long, and the Plaits more ſticking out than ever. The Ladies were principally in Brocades of Gold and and Silver, and wore their Sleeves much lower than had been done for ſome Time.

April 30. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to write Letters with his own Hand to the Emperor, the Kings of France, Spain, Sardinia, Portugal, and the States General, to acquaint them with the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with the Princeſs Auguſta of Saxe Gotha.

We hear that the Right. Hon. the Lord Baltimore will be appointed his Majeſty's Ambaſſador Extraordinary to the Court of Vienna, to notify the Marriage of the Prince of Wales with the Princeſs Auguſta to their Imperial Majeſties.

May 3. His Majeſty in Council has been pleaſed to Order, That every Miniſter and Preacher, as well of the eſtabliſhed Church in that Part of Great-Britain called Scotland

CHARLESTOWN,

On Sunday last in the Evening arrived from Savanna in Georgia the Honourable the Committee of the two Houses of Assembly of this Province mention'd in our Gazette of the 24th Ult. They were received here under the discharge of 15 Cannon from Granville's Bastion, and the Fire of the Guns from on board the shipping in the Harbour; and who inform us they were very kindly received and entertained by the Honourable James Oglethorpe Esq; during their stay at Savanna What the Success of their Negociations in particular has been, we have not yet learned, as the two Houses of Assembly to which they are to make their Report, are not sitting: But thus much is said, (and from the Reasonableness and Justice of the Thing there is no doubt to be made of the Truth of it) that they had prevai-'d on the Hon. Mr. Oglethorpe, to send Orders to his Agents Officers in the Indian Nations, not to seize or molest Traders from this Province, and also to settle the Na- on up the River Savannah, we believe to Satisfaction, is Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure should be on the humble Petition and Representation of the ises of Assembly which was sent home in Capt From whence we hope, that That Harmony and rstanding, which is so absolutely necessary to the h both, will be restored between the two Provinces.
